

can be so open and free to the meeting. What about the voices we do not hear in meeting? Is it content, dissent, or resignation? ?!

We feel the loss of a member who moved from the area and is gifted in music. Our desire for more music in our meeting for worship is even greater.

We have stopped asking for concerns at the close of meeting. This may be something to return to that will bring the meeting a particular need for the focus of our prayers and attention.
